

Children's Week Book Project

Ages 5-8

The following stories are designed to be completed by children themselves but younger children may need the assistance of an adult, or for the page to be printed at a large size to better accommodate the size of their writing.

Children are encouraged to be descriptive and imaginative. Having the story read aloud after filling out the blanks is highly recommended.

Children may use whatever medium they choose to create an illustration that accompanies their story as long as it can be easily photographed.

Children's Week celebrates the interests, opinions, talents and Rights of all Children by promoting the articles of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. Children's week in WA is convened by Meerilinga Young Children's Foundation. The Children's Week Book Project is proudly supported by Healthway through the Go for 2 & 5 initiative and Lotterywest.

Uncle Dave

I have an Uncle Dave. He thinks he's very _____ because he's a grown up. A lot of crazy things happen to Uncle Dave.

He always says to me, "What do you know? You're just a kid."

But I still try to help him.

Like that time I said, "I don't think you should pat that camel Uncle Dave!"

"Why not?!" said Uncle Dave.

"Because if you do then _____ and if that happens then _____!

Uncle Dave did it anyway and do you know what happened?

Another time when Uncle Dave was at the _____

and he saw a _____.

I said, "you better be careful Uncle Dave!" But Uncle Dave just shrugged.

He wasn't even a little bit careful and do you know what happened?

_____ AND then his _____ fell off!

Yesterday Uncle Dave said, "hey, what do you think about this old _____ that I found next to a bin?"

I thought he was finally going to listen to me! I said "it's very nice, but I really don't think you should use it as a _____"

Unfortunately, Uncle Dave just said, "You're just a kid, what do you know?"

And do you know what happened? Yep, you guessed it...
