

Children's Week Book Project

Ages 9-12

The following stories are designed to be completed by children themselves. Children are encouraged to be descriptive and imaginative. Reading the story aloud after filling out the blanks is highly recommended.

Children may use whatever medium they choose to create an illustration that accompanies their story as long as it can be easily photographed.

If older students wish to create their own story based on the children's right listed at the end of the story template they are welcome to do so. Please make sure the story is no longer than 400 words.

Children's Week celebrates the interests, opinions, talents and Rights of all Children by promoting the articles of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. Children's week in WA is convened by Meerilinga Young Children's Foundation. The Children's Week Book Project is proudly supported by Healthway through the Go for 2 & 5 initiative and Lotterywest.

Supported by

The Word for Home

At home the language I speak is _____.

My favourite words to say are probably _____ because it sounds _____ or _____ because it is _____.

I know some words in another language too, like _____ which means

_____.

Sometimes I imagine what it would be like to travel far away from home to a place like

_____. I think it would be interesting to go there because _____.

But after a while I'd probably miss things about where I live, like

_____.

And I'd miss my family most of all.

In my family we like to do things together like, _____ and we can't stop laughing when _____.

I'd miss the way that _____ and _____.

I think my favourite time of the year with my family is _____.

That's when we _____.

We eat things like _____ and we

_____.

People in my community celebrate things like _____ and

_____.

I hope that when I grow up, no matter where I go, or what I see, I'll always

_____.

UNCRC Article 30 - You have the right to practice your own culture, language and religion – or any that you choose. Minority and indigenous groups need special protection of this right.

Supported by

The Word for Home

Can you create a picture of yourself and somewhere that feels like home to you? It doesn't have to be inside your house, it could be at the beach or out bush. Or you could try and illustrate an activity or celebration you enjoy with your family.

Supported by

